Key Indicator - 2.3. Teaching- Learning Process

QIM 2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences. (Theory 200 words)

Response:

Majority faculty members are having a vast teaching experience at their disposal. It helps the college to understand the need of experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies which are essential for the Teaching-Learning Process. The experiential learning skills cover the field visits, research work project preparation and industrial visits. Teachers have designed and devised innovative teaching plans and evaluation methods. Teachers design the topics for practical in such a way that it adds up to the practical knowledge. Students have to prepare a field visit report. To make teaching and learning more interesting and practical oriented, Case Study Methods and Roll Play Methods are included in the curriculum. As per the scope of the syllabus, the practicals are designed. The College has introduced various participative activities, which are conducted throughout the year including presentations, debates, quiz competitions, writing home assignments, conducting tutorials in class rooms, project writing etc. Project writing, preparing journals and appearing for the practical and oral examination is compulsory for every student as per the assigned schedule and are the old practices of the college to maintain the due record. The teachers use Innovativeteachingpractices such as PPT, ICT and Google Tools.

Limitations of Marginal Costing

The separation of costs into fixed and variable (semi-variable) is not a completely feasible. (a) Under the marginal cost system, stock of finished goods and inventory increases and decreases. (b) The accuracy of fixed overheads from the businesses affects the profit and loss account and the balance sheet and the financial statements. (c) In the marginal costing system, marginal contribution and profit increases or decreases with changes in the volume of sales. (d) The accuracy of fixed overheads from the businesses affects the profit and loss account and the balance sheet and the financial statements. (e) The accuracy of fixed overheads from the businesses affects the profit and loss account and the balance sheet and the financial statements.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS:

We are happy to present the project "Milk and dairy management system" in visual basic.

A Project titled "Milk and dairy management system" Would not have been completed A Project Without the Valuable guidance and encouragement of Mrs.Bhawsar madam and Mr. Nabge sir. And all staff members. We want acknowledge them for their moral support.

This project is substantially upgrade our skill of software development which we intend to good use in developing better system in future, in conclusion, we would like to express our thanks to management for following us to all Facilities completion of our project.

Finally we extend our thanks our all BBA (C.A) staff, Classmates and also thanks to our parents to help us all time and special thanks to our Friends who helped us for successful completion of this project. They pointed out errors & suggested changes, thus helped in many ways, give us the idea of this project.

Q.1 Explain demand paging in detail.

The basic idea behind paging is that when a process is swapped in the pager only loads into memory those pages that it expects the process to need (right away) pages that are not loaded in memory are marked as invalid in the page table, using the invalid bit.

If the process only ever accesses pages that are loaded in memory.

- page fault: a page fault occurs when a program attempts to access data or code that is in its address space but is not currently located in the system RAM. the fault notifies the operating that must locate the data in virtual memory, then transfer it from the storage device, such as an HDD or SSD, to the system RAM.

- steps for handling page fault:

- ① check the location of the referenced page in the page map table (PMT).

- ② if a page fault occurred, call on the operating system to fix it.

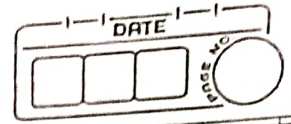

- ③ using the frame occurred, call on the operating system to fix it. replacement algorithm, find the frame location.
- ④ read the data from disk to memory.
- ⑤ update the page map table for the process the instruction that caused the page fault is restarted when the process resumes execution.

Q.2 Explain necessary conditions of deadlock to occur.

→ A deadlock situation can arrive if the following four conditions hold simultaneously in a system.

1. Mutual Exclusion: At least one resource is held in a non-sharable mode; that is only one process at a time can use the resource. Example monitor, printer etc. if another process requests that resource that are requesting process must be delayed until the resource has been released. each resource is either currently assigned to exactly one process or is available.

2. Hold and wait: A process must be holding at least one resource and waiting to acquire additional resources that are currently being held by other processes.

3. No preemption: the process which one scheduled will be executed till the completion no other process can be scheduled by the scheduler meanwhile.

4. Circular wait: All the processes must be waiting for the resource in a cyclic manner so that the last process is waiting for the resource which is being held by the first process.
